Educational System

The educational system in the Republic of Croatia includes:

- pre-school education,
- basic education (compulsory and free of charge for all children aged seven to fifteen),
- secondary education and
- tertiary education.

Pre-school Education

- Pre-school education (institutional) takes place from the time when the child is one year old and lasts until he or she is six or seven years old.
- It takes place in nurseries, kindergartens and the so-called 'pre-school' (a form of preparation for elementary school).

Compulsory Education

- Basic and compulsory education (elementary school) provides a wide all-round education lasting eight years, which has developed from education systems that used to last 4, 5, 6, or 7 years.
- Basic education is organised in two 4-year-long stages: one-teacher education (only one teacher does all the teaching) and subject teaching (the teaching is done by several teachers, their number depending on the number of subjects).

Secondary Education

- Upper secondary education is divided into:
 - 4-year general education (gymnasia);
 - 4-year vocational education (technical and other vocational schools);
 - 4-year art education;
 - 3-year vocational schools and completed profession schools
 - schools for occupations which require lower education qualification;
 - training.

Universities

- Among Croatian academic institutions, Universities take the most important place. These starting points for each young intellectual are located in four biggest Croatian cities: Osijek, Rijeka, Split and Zagreb.
- In smaller cities, there are colleges, which educate students for specific occupations that are of interest for the local economy.
